

My name is Makenzie,

I am 24 years old, and I have been a student of Kesler Guitar for just shy of 3 months now. I am currently an orthodontic assistant, but music is my passion. I have played piano for about 10 years, and actually took guitar lessons for about a year when I was 8 years old before my teacher ended up resigning from teaching. I never really felt connected to guitar with that teacher, so I never took the time to find a new teacher and continue learning. It has always been a regret of mine that I didn't continue learning, so I decided to take it up again- I thought, if I don't do it now, then i'll be 10 more years down the road regretting that I hadn't started lessons again!

I was referred to Mr. Kesler by a church friend of mine, and boy do I owe him big :) I have enjoyed my lessons SO much! I've never felt more connected to the guitar, and really understood by my teacher. Before hearing about Mr. Kesler, I took lessons for about a month elsewhere, and I just felt like I wasn't learning or progressing much; much like most teachers- this teacher had a stop watch displayed to finish at exactly 30 minutes and if we were in the middle of something specific but our time was up, we would promptly end. With Mr. Kesler, however, I think that if I asked to stay another 3 hours just to get something down, I know he'd be happy to help! I truly feel like he understands me as a student; my strengths, weaknesses, what I need to devote more practice to, and really tailors our lessons to what I want to get out of learning guitar. If you have made it to the end of my novel, congratulations- the finish line is in sight! ;) Let me summarize: Mr. Kesler is the best teacher that you will find; not only does he have such an amazing talent, not only to understand guitar and to play guitar, but also to teach. Aside from getting great guitar lessons, taking from Mr. Kesler will also gain you a friend. I can't recommend Kesler Guitar more!! :D
